FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: August 7, 2012

PRAIRIEVILLE – Co-workers, family members and friends celebrated the retirement of Prairieville Postmaster Benny Daigle on July 31 as he completed more than 40 years of service with the United States Postal Service.

Daigle began his career with the post office at the Baton Rouge Main Office.

Working his way through the ranks, Daigle became supervisor of Mail in Mail Processing in 1978.

In 1980, Daigle was promoted to superintendent of Post Office Operations at the Plaquemine Post Office, and in 1984 he was transferred to the same position at the Port Allen Post Office. Shortly thereafter, Daigle was detailed to officer in charge of the Prairieville Post Office and served for eight months.

Daigle was then promoted to postmaster of the White Castle Post Office in 1986 before become postmaster of the Prairieville Post Office in 1992.
