PHOTO CUTLINE – Ascension Parish President Tommy Martinez (left) presented a parish certificate of appreciation to Lowe's Gonzales Store No. 2645 Human Resources Manager Ena Warner (center) and Assistant Store Manager Donald Crocker at the Sept. 17 parish council meeting in Gonzales. Lowe's employees volunteered their time to work at the parish's Animal Control Center doing cleaning, taking out shelving, painting and restocking as part of the Lowe's Heroes Project. The Lowe's Heroes Project started more than ten years ago and encourages employees in a location to team together, adopt a volunteer project with a local non-profit organization to make a difference in a community, Warner said. The employees at the Gonzales location started on Aug. 19 and concluded on Sept. 8. Warner said Loew's also donated a new microwave, refrigerator, pressure washer and other items to the center. "Lowe's believes in giving back to the community," Warner said. "Our team loves animals and we discussed that with our whole team and decided the Ascension Parish shelter is the place we would be this year."
